By WASH FAYETTE

Here's a story I just heard. It was told for fact, but it may be just an old saw tuned up with a local pitch. It's hardly apropos of anything, unless it might be the current fad of taking pot shots at labor.

With authenticity so questionable, names are better left unwritten. Anyway, it went something like this:

One of the workers in a factory here came in late the other morning. The foreman bounced him with a: "Where you been... whatta you think you're doin' comin' in this time of day?"

The answer was: "Getting my hair cut."

The foreman's retort was: "So, you think you ought to get a hair cut on the company's time, do you?"

Whereupon, the tardy worker replied: "Well it grew on the company's time didn't it?"

Silly little tale, isn't it... well, yes, if it is only a story. But if it's true, it's not so silly—and the worker with long hair is due for a rude awakening one of these days.

Echoes of the Fair:

While Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Perry Ford, the state highway director sat over in the shadows of the centerfield just thoroughly enjoying the joy the crowd was getting out of the Fair Thursday night with Howard C. Allen, a former Fair director, and Frank E. Ellis, the secretary of the board, the governor noticed the outline of the tomb of two of Fayette County's equine greats. Allen told the story, as only he could tell it.

The governor listened intently, and was impressed. The same went for the highway director. When he had finished, they agreed that traditions such as were symbolized by the graves of Major Mallow and Bobbie Burns were something to be kept and cherished. And, the great state of Ohio took note through two of its official representatives on an unofficial visit. It was this:

Come next year and another Fair, the highway department under Ford's direction is going to try to make some arrangement for placing that tomb under a floodlight each night so that it may be seen more plainly and stand out as a reminder of the background that makes these once-a-year good times possible.

REFRIGERATOR CAVE TO GET ONCE OVER

Proposal for Abandonment Arouses Deeper Interest

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson will take a personal look before he agrees with anyone that the War Food Administration's $2,000,000 underground refrigerator-cave at Atchison, Kans., should be abandoned.

Anderson, who will go to Atchison today, said last night that "whenever anyone says, 'let's throw this $2,000,000 thing away, I want to look at it.'"

A House of Representatives committee recently recommended the huge 10,000,000-cubic-foot rock-bound vault be abandoned only a week after construction of refrigeration facilities had been completed.

Anderson said he would have to determine if there were sufficient food on hand to make profitable use of the cave.

Leased a year ago by the WFA, construction of the huge ice box has been carried on by the Defense Plant Corporation.

AT LEAST 16 SHIPS HIT OFF EAST COAST

CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—At least 16 U. S. ships were hit by torpedoes off the coasts of the Carolinas, Georgia and the St. Johns River, Fla., during the Battle of the Atlantic, Rear Adm. Jules James disclosed today.

James, who is commandant of the Sixth Naval District and of the Westown Navy Yard, said anti-aircraft patrols had been ordered well by May, 1942, however, only three ships were off the Carolinas and after that month.

SIZE OF ARMY NOW COMES IN FOR CRITICISM

Men Being Released to Man Trains and More Planes To Ease Transportation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The army moved in two directions today to avert a transportation crisis but came under renewed fire for its plans to keep 7,000,000 men in uniform for the Pacific war.

To ease the pressure over to commercial air lines enough army planes and pilots to move 25,000 troops a month across the country by air.

2. It is speeding up the discharge of high-point soldiers with railroad experience "to the maximum extent consistent with military needs and the orderly process of redeployment."

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) a member of the senate military committee, contended the army is keeping too many soldiers in uniform above its real needs. He prepared to tell his colleagues that unless the army speeds demobilization the nation may see a post-war "dumping" of manpower that will mean serious unemployment.

Johnson said he wants an answer, too, to a recent statement by Maj. Gen. Lewis Hershey that selective service will continue drafting men for several months after the war ends.

In announcing its twin attack on the transportation problem, the War Department said between 70 and 80 C-47 transports and 260 former airline pilots would be involved in the shift to commercial airlines. These lines will handle the troops movements under contract with the army.

The department added within ten days 1,362 men with railroad experience will be released from military railway service in Europe for return to this country and discharge. An additional 2,063 men with enough points for discharge are to be withdrawn from railway operating and shop battalions in Europe with priority for early return to the United States.

NEW U. S. JET PLANE CAN SPEED 550 MPH

Also Has Long Range With Ceiling 8 Miles High

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The air force is ready to show the Japs a jet plane—the P80—which can fly more than 550 miles an hour and more than 45,000 feet high.

The "Shooting Star" was unveiled for newspapermen yesterday.

The pilot, Captain Wallace A. Lien, of Wright Field, Ohio, said some of the planes had been sent overseas but that as far as he knew none had yet seen combat.

Makers say they have overcome the range limitations which narrowed usefulness of German jet fighters by placing jetisonable tanks at the P80's wing tips and employing a more economical gas turbine. These improvements permit the "Shooting Star" to perform missions now carried out by orthodox long range fighters.

The P80, armed with six 50-caliber machine guns in the nose, has a wing span of 38 feet 10 1-2 inches and weighs 8,000 pounds empty or 14,000 with maximum fuel load.

7 Germans To Be Hanged For Killing Yank Fliers

DARMSTADT, Germany, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Seven Germans, two of them women, will be hanged and three others face long prison terms for the killing of six captured American airmen last August.

The verdicts were returned late last night after a six-day trial which military court attaches said would serve as a model of procedure against hundreds of other Nazis charged with similar crimes.

Each of the group denied any serious connection with a mob which beat the airmen to death.

Two of those sentenced to die are sisters, Margarete Witzler, 50, and Kathie Reinhardt, 38, both mothers. They cried loudly when the sentence was pronounced.

Others sentenced to be hanged

Hope For Freedom Given Ohio 'Lifers'

First Degree Murderers Who Have Demonstrated They Can Be Useful to Society To Get Parole Hearing After 20 Years in Prison

COLUMBUS, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The sunshine of hope for freedom will burst upon 62 first-degree "lifers" in Ohio prisons about mid-October largely because Supt. William F. Amrine of London Prison Farm has faith in them.

Amrine, recognized as one of the nation's leading penologists, long has maintained that freedom should be given first degree murderers who have demonstrated during long prison stays that they could be useful if returned to society.

Such slayers who escaped execution because of "mercy" recommendations by juries which convicted them heretofore have been doomed to spend the rest of their lives behind bars.

New legislation passed by the last general assembly now requires the state pardon and parole commission to conduct hearings for first-degree "lifers" after they have served 20 years imprisonment, a procedure which Amrine previously sought without success.

"Good work must always be rewarded," Amrine said today in explaining his philosophy for running a penal institution.

Gen. Roosevelt Denies Father Helped Get Loan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt says anyone who claims the late President Roosevelt "promoted or assisted" his son's business affairs is lying.

And, young Roosevelt said in a sharply-worded statement last night, he is leaving the air force simply because he does not wish to be an arm-chair general.

He made the decision a month before published reports about his business transactions which led to a congressional investigation, Roosevelt said, adding: "I conducted my own business affairs. The responsibility was and still is mine and mine alone."

WOMAN DOCTOR LEADS STRIKE

Miners Quit When Company Denies Sanitary Facilities

FORCE, Pa., Aug. 1.—(AP)—A pretty woman doctor and 275 miners who "struck" because of what they call intolerable sanitary conditions today awaited a State Department of Health report on the water supply in this northern Pennsylvania coal town.

The woman, 33-year-old Dr. Elizabeth O. Hayes, former worker at famed Grenfell Mission in Labrador, quit as physician for Shawmut Mining Co. in protest against the firm's refusal to make health improvements. She said she would move away, leaving 4,000 persons without medical care, unless something was done.

The miners quit two weeks ago, declaring they won't work without a company physician at hand.

At Harrisburg, Dr. J. Moore Campbell, deputy secretary of health, said a district engineer investigating a threatened typhoid epidemic here reported "the public water supply was in good shape" but that "private wells had been contaminated by sewage from out-houses."

"I can stand it no longer," said the woman doctor. She asked the company for sewers, a water system, inside bathrooms and foundations under the company houses.

"She laid down some impossible demands," declared Frank Lambert, general manager of the company. "It's an economic impossibility to lay water pipes 3 1/2 miles to a town of 94 houses."

OHIO GAR COMMANDER HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

ALLIANCE, O., Aug. 1.—(AP)—John H. Grate, state commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, celebrates his 100th birthday today and the whole town is going to help.

Grate and three fellow members of the John C. Fremont post at a celebration tonight, arranged by local veterans organizations.

Pierce, who shot his wife and son to death March 25, 1944, in his nearby Reynoldsburg home, said he was "completely satisfied" with the jury which convicted him and with the appellate court decision.

Drone of Doom for Japan over Iwo

Giant Sky-Train of Warplanes Goes over Ugly Island Soaked in Drama and Blood

By ROBBIN COONS

IWO JIMA.—(AP)—Almost nightly now the air over Iwo throbs steadily, hour after hour, with the purposeful drumming of the big parade of Japan-bound B-29s from Marianas bases.

The giant sky-train rumbles in the blackness somewhere off the bulge of Mount Suribachi, wingtip lights forming a chain of points glowing in the dark. There's a rhythm in their drumming, the receding roar of one plane's engines blending with the approaching roar of another's to make a relentless, cosmic symphony. It is Japan's doom music.

Once the Superforts gave Iwo a wide berth, especially on the return trip where Japanese fighters could lie in wait like vultures for the crippled sky kings. Now Iwo is haven, coming or going.

That is part of the fruits of the marines' costly victory here.

Long before daylight, long before the first wounded or fuel-thirsty planes return, Iwo is ready for them. The welcome mat is out.

Up long before dawn to meet them are flight surgeons, control tower men, ambulance drivers, fuel truck drivers, the Red Cross

Conclusion of Historic Conference Comes Abruptly and Soon After Announcement That President Truman and England's King Would Meet Aboard Ship the Following Day

By DANIEL DE LUCE

POTSDAM, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The "Big Three" came to the end early tonight of their historic sessions upon which the future peace of the world may possibly hinge.

President Truman is due to fly to England tomorrow to meet King George VI after his last meeting with Prime Minister Attlee and Premier Stalin. He will sail from Plymouth to the United States.

White House correspondents who accompanied Mr. Truman to Europe were packed and ready to leave at a moment's notice with the presidential party.

Completion of the drafting in final phraseology of the involved Big Three agreements in two languages, English and Russian, was believed to be the main task remaining. Principles of these agreements already have been decided.

The Big Three were still in session at 5:30 P. M. (10:30 A. M., Eastern War Time), but it was believed the major decisions had been reached and they and other top officials were preparing to leave Potsdam tomorrow.

It was announced to Allied correspondents that no press representatives would be permitted to see the ceremonial conclusion of the parley. A negative reply was given to correspondents' letters to each of the Big Three asking press conferences with them or the heads of their foreign ministries.

It was indicated the final communiqué would be issued on Friday, one day after all the delegations had departed from Potsdam. (Please Turn to Page Two)

Petain Supported By U.S. Adm. Leahy

Former Ambassador to Paris Writes His Belief That Aging Marshal Acted in Best Interests of France—It Is Read At Trial

PARIS, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of staff to President Truman, expressed the belief that Marshal Petain always acted in the best interests of France in a letter read today at the treason trial of the old soldier.

As read in court the letter of Leahy, who is attending the Big Three Conference at Potsdam, expressed "high regard" for Petain and said he was unable to appear as a witness because of his position. He had been U. S. ambassador to the Vichy regime of Marshal Petain until the Germans took over the unoccupied portions of France in November, 1942, when North Africa was invaded.

Leahy's letter, dated July 22, was in reply to Petain's request that he return to France as a witness.

The admiral stated he recalled that on many occasions he had heard Petain express a desire to see the Nazis overwhelmed.

After the letter was read, Chief Judge Paul Mongibeaux asserted: "There is one sentence against Petain in that letter."

The defense protested and Mongibeaux did not explain the sentence to which he referred.

Leahy's letter said that while he was ambassador to France "you did, on occasion at my request, take action in opposition to the desires of the Axis and favorable to the Allied cause."

CONDEMNED KILLER DOESN'T WANT STAY

COLUMBUS, Aug. 1.—(AP)—George H. Pierce, 47-year-old slayer of two, asked Governor Frank J. Lausche in a letter today not to intercede to halt his scheduled execution in the electric chair Aug. 24.

"Let's make it unanimous," said Pierce in his letter to Lausche, referring to an appellate court decision upholding his conviction and setting the execution date.

Pierce, who shot his wife and son to death March 25, 1944, in his nearby Reynoldsburg home, said he was "completely satisfied" with the jury which convicted him and with the appellate court decision.

1,035 NIP SHIPS KNOCKED OUT IN JULY'S ATTACKS

Tokyo Radio Says: 'We Are Enduring the Impossible,' Know It Will Be Worse

By LEONARD MILLIMAN

By the Associated Press

Unprecedented American sea and air power knocked out 1,035 Japanese vessels and more than 1,278 planes in the Mikados front yard during July and promised to reach new heights this month with flights of 1,200 Superforts packing 8,000-ton bomb loads.

Even the enemy's Imperial Headquarters admitted "damages were considerable." A Tokyo communique countered with a claim that 1,021 Allied planes and 25 ships were destroyed or damaged during July, giving some encouragement to Premier Kantaro Suzuki as he reported today to Emperor Hirohito on "affairs of state."

Japs in 'Sit-Down War'

The imperial communique promised that preparations were being made to meet an invasion. But there was so little sign of fight that Associated Press War Correspondent Richard K. O'Malley, riding with the Allied fleet that has been cruising Japanese waters for more than two weeks, commented:

"Japan seems almost to be waging a sit-down war."

LAVAL HANDED OVER TO FRANCE BY YANKS

Countrymen Would Kill Him, Officials Believe

PARIS, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Pierre Laval arrived by plane at Le Bourget Airfield from the Austrian city of Innsbruck late today and was taken immediately to Fresnes Prison, it was announced at the trial of Marshal Petain.

The former chief of the Vichy government, who surrendered to American authorities in Austria after he was ousted from refuge in Spain yesterday, was accompanied by his wife.

Secrecy had been maintained as to Laval's movement to France because of fears that Frenchmen liberated from Nazi horror camps might seek to attack him, a French spokesman said.

Laval was handed over to French officers last night by Americans of the 65th division. Landing yesterday in Austria in the same German plane and with the same German crew that flew him to Barcelona on May 2 to seek refuge, Laval said he had "left Spain at the request of government authorities there."

SMALL ARMS RELEASED FOR SALE TO CIVILIANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—All small arms, except 12-gauge shotguns and revolvers using 38-caliber special cartridges, will be released for sale to civilians immediately.

Announcing this today the War Production Board said those to be released include 16-gauge pump and automatic shotguns, automatic pistols, and rifles.

Submarine Shells City

Tokyo reported that the blazing guns of a single American submarine wound up July with a 30-minute bombardment last night of Tomakomai on the northern refuge island of Hokkaido.

Twenty Mustang fighters from Iwo Jima or Okinawa were credited by Tokyo radio with making the first attack in August. They raked airfields and transportation facilities in the heavily hammered Osaka-Kobe area for 50 minutes today.

Japan is taking such a beating that a Tokyo broadcaster moaned "we are enduring the impossible, with grinding teeth and clenched fists."

They know it's going to get worse. Nineteen cities have been forewarned they would be fire-bombed by Superforts. Six of them have seen the promise carried out. Attacks by 1,200 B-29s were promised soon by Lt. Gen. Barney M. Giles, deputy commander of the strategic air forces. That is twice the present record formation.

In the backyards of the war, two jungle air forces moved closer to Japan. The Tenth Air Force which supported successful Chinese and British campaigns in

LIONS GET $354 FROM SALE OF FAIR PROGRAMS

Money Goes Into Fund Used For Club's Welfare and Civic Activities

Those long and tiresome hours spent in the crowd and sweating heat by members of the Washington C. H. Lions Club last week as they yelled "program and score card for the afternoon's races," added $354.08 to the fund which supports the club's many-sided civic and welfare activities.

John Sagar, the chairman of the committee, reported at the club's Tuesday evening meeting at the Country Club that most of the amount had been netted from the sale of programs at the Fair races this year. Approximately $18 came from the sale of pencils which had been given by William Humphries.

The club has handled the sale of race programs at the Fair for several years on a 50-50 net basis with the Fair Board.

Paul Van Voorhis, the president, said "we did very well," and then pointed out that the fund would have benefited even more had not the rain balked the last day's racing. He declared the Lions "appreciate this opportunity to raise money for our worthy projects." He also expressed appreciation of the cooperation received from the Fair Board. Compliments also were paid Sagar and his corps of Lion salesmen.

The club's sight-saving program for underprivileged children has been one of the club's big projects, but Van Voorhis said the fund could be used for any civic betterment or welfare purpose decided on by the board of directors.

The speaker who had been scheduled for the meeting failed to arrive, so James Riffe, Jr., the new executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce told the Lions what that organization could do for the community with their support. He warned that too big results should not be expected too soon.

Van Voorhis reported to the club that the booth under the grandstand during the Fair had aroused considerable interest in the club's projected aviation club for young people. A number of boys, he said, had signed up for club membership.

Lieut. (jg) Marion (Dutch) Rife, a Lion on leave, who has just returned from a tour of duty at sea with the navy, said he hoped it would not be long until he would be back to stay. He did not relate any of his experiences.

Dr. Donald Mossbarger and Barney McGhee were guests at the meeting which had a 65 percent attendance.

rowed $200,000 in 1939 from John Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, that the debt was settled three years later for $4,000 by Jesse Jones, then secretary of Commerce, and that Hartford listed his loss as a bad debt on his 1942 income tax return.

Pegler wrote that "President Roosevelt knew of the loan and approved it."

General Roosevelt, who reverts to inactive status August 15, said he filed his retirement request May 11, three days after V-E Day. "I wanted to take part in the fighting against Japan," he added. "Above all else, I still want to do so, but the army has no assignment for a reconnaissance officer of my qualifications."

"I have neither the background nor the training for a non-combat assignment, and I certainly have no desire to finish out the war as an army chair general."

Roosevelt said he felt that until the army acted on his inactive status request it was "inappropriate for me to make any statement with respect to the pernicious charges and lies which have been published concerning me by a small segment of the press."

Now, he added, he believes "those millions who loved and respected him have the right to know that Franklin D. Roosevelt never promoted or assisted my personal business affairs. Any statement that he ever did so is a deliberate, infamous lie."

director, emphasized that the new law does not mean that there will be a wholesale release of long-term prisoners in Ohio.

"Numerous precautions have been taken in this act to safeguard the public," Reams explained. "Before an inmate can be released, it is up to the parole board to study his record carefully and then recommend for further study to the governor, who is empowered to act finally in each case."

Charles Sherwood, former welfare head and now chairman of the pardon and parole commission, said he has felt for several years that first-degree lifers should receive systematic hearings.

Reams listed 42 such prisoners eligible for hearings among the 1396 inmates at London Prison Farm; 17 in Ohio Penitentiary here, and three in Marysville Reformatory for Women.

Amrine, now nearing 70, said he has seen more than 11,000 prisoners leave under parole. The majority of them make good, he added.

The gray-haired Spanish-American war veteran, a strict prison disciplinarian, nonetheless has won a reputation for fairness among prisoners. Many of his most trusted inmates, he said, are life-term murderers. Those who are making good should have another chance, he insists.

with a simultaneous release scheduled in Washington, London and Moscow.

A spokesman said "a great deal of progress was made" by the three leaders at a 3½ hour meeting yesterday.

It is expected the results of the parley will be announced in a joint communique to be released simultaneously in London, Washington and Moscow.

The president will fly to Plymouth in the big four-motored C-54 which carried President Roosevelt to the Yalta conference and which Truman used to fly to the San Francisco United Nations parley.

After meeting with the king, the president will board the cruiser Augusta and return home, where he will formally report to the people of the United States in a nation-wide radio address.

The British announcement said Truman would arrive at an unspecified British airport and proceed to Plymouth where he will board the U. S. cruiser Augusta. The king will embark on the Renown, a British battle cruiser, and both ships will steam out for a rendezvous at sea.

After lunch, the president will leave the Renown and return to the Augusta and the king will board the Augusta to take leave of the president.

The king will not be accompanied by the queen. The king will leave London tonight and will be accompanied by Lord Halifax, British ambassador to Washington, Sir Alan Lascelles, his private secretary, and Capt. Sir Harold Campbell.

"However, I must in all honesty repeat my opinion, as expressed to you at the time, that positive refusal to make any concessions to Axis demands, while it might have brought immediately increased hardship to your people, would in the long view have been advantageous to France."

George and Thomas Conner Both In Hospital

George and Thomas Conner, sons of Mrs. Thomas W. Conner, of Delaware Street, are in hospitals at widely separated points and both are recovering from serious injuries sustained in airplane wrecks.

George Conner was injured Saturday evening when a plane piloted by Elmer Hummell, crashed into two fences in making a forced landing. Hummell was not seriously hurt.

Conner was taken to White Cross Hospital with serious back injuries, and his condition is still so serious that no visitors are allowed.

Thomas R. Conner in the U. S. armed service, was injured sometime ago in a plane crash in North Carolina, and is still confined to a Naval Hospital at LaJeu.

JAPS ADMIT DAMAGE TO CITIES—1,035 Ships KNOCKED OUT IN JULY

Burma joined the 14th in China. The 13th, veterans of the South Pacific air war, moved to the northern Philippines where Maj. Gen. Paul B. Wurtsmith told his men "we are now in on the kill." And Col. James O. Guthrie, acting leader of the 13th Fighter Command, added that "our pilots now look forward to the day when they will be based at Tokyo."

Absence of Japanese air opposition was blamed by Rear Adm. William Blandy, new commander of Pacific fleet cruisers and destroyers, at least partially on lack of aviation gasoline. Tokyo acknowledged it. The Suzuki government took over all fuel production to put the nation's air power in the air. Most planes wrecked in Japan have been caught on the ground.

Civilians in Fight

Nearly 3,000 Japanese civilians were reported to have joined 20,000 imperial troops fighting Chinese in East China's Kiangsi province. To the south, Japanese appeared to have slowed their withdrawal northward from Kweilin, eighth former U. S. air base city to be captured. Tokyo claimed Chinese operating on the Indo-China border were held to localized operations.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

And why did Winston Churchill beg His Majesty King George to excuse him from accepting England's most honored knighthood—the Order of the Garter.

Well, of course that may be a somewhat delicate question which Mr. Churchill himself would have to answer, but I'll bet a shiny new sixpence that the real reason is one he wouldn't be likely to give. This is that that unadorned name of Winston Churchill already is so famous that no title could add to its lustre. A knighthood would be gilding the lily.

Statesman, author, orator, war leader—plain Winston Churchill ranks among the great of British history. This distinguished place he has won by reason of his genius and through his own efforts.

That in itself is enough to make "Sir Winston" seem strangely out of place as designation for a man whose name is a household word throughout the civilized world. But there's another reason why a knighthood would be no promotion for him. He is the grandson of the Duke of Marlborough, and that's mighty blue blood—none more so.

One suspects too that Churchill wouldn't feel like accepting anything less than a dukedom—the highest rank in the peerage. And chances are that he wouldn't want it at this juncture because, coming on top of the defeat of his Conservative party by the Laborites in the election, it might appear to be in the nature of a consolation prize. Furthermore, while Churchill hasn't made any official announcement, he reportedly intends to remain in the fore of the political battle as leader of "His Majesty's loyal opposition" in the House of Commons, and he couldn't have a seat in Commons and at the same time hold a peerage, for that would make him a member of the House of Lords.

It isn't so many years ago that a noble lord could be prime minister or leader of the opposition party, but that no longer holds good. There is no law to prevent it, but tradition holds that the premier and the chief of the opposition must lead their forces on the actual battle-field, which is the House of Commons. If, as the London Daily Mail says, Churchill is "determined to continue his fight against socialism," we shall be treated to some good old-fashioned pyrotechnics in the Commons debates. I've seen Churchill in action many times in Commons and believe there's no other man in Britain who has the debating ability and political acumen which he possesses to keep the government on its toes.

By and large, England probably will feel fortunate if Churchill does decide to carry on, for the Labor party will need a balance wheel as it starts out on its experiment in nationalization. I even hazard the guess that Socialist Prime Minister Attlee will welcome the fiery Churchillian criticism as helping to maintain the necessary balance.

The future will tell whether Churchill will be able to go "all out" in politics and at the same time give the world the historical work for which it is waiting. He always has been possessed of tremendous energy and has found time not only for politics and writing but for such lighter pursuits as landscape painting. He is said to be in good shape now as he approaches the end of his seventy-first year.

One is reminded of an exchange he had with Field Marshal Montgomery in North Africa during the campaign against Rommel. Monty boasted: "I don't smoke, I don't drink, and I am 100 percent fit." To this Winnie retorted: "I smoke, I drink and I am 200 percent fit." So we likely shall see Churchill do both his political work and writing—and maybe in the end get his dukedom and that Knighthood of the Garter besides.

RESUME SHOWS JULY RAINFALL IS BELOW NORMAL

Temperature Ranges All the Way from 46 on 12th To 103 on 24th

While July was very erratic in temperature, with a range of 46 degrees on the 15th to 103 on the 24th, summary just completed by Observer Chalmer Burns shows that the rainfall was considerably below normal and that the average temperature was slightly below normal.

Total rainfall was 3.13 for the month, compared with a normal of 3.74 inches, but an hour after the month ended Tuesday midnight heavy rainfall started and an additional .71 of an inch was recorded that was so near it might be added to the month, and bring the total to 3.84 inches, or slightly above normal.

During July 13 day had a temperature of 90 or above, and it was 98 degrees on the 13th and 25th.

A year ago July had rainfall of only 2.58 inches with a range of temperature from 47 on the 21st to 101 on the 11th. There were 14 days with temperature 90 or above. Average temperature was 75.4 degrees, or above normal.

The average temperature for July is 74 degrees. During the past month the average was 73.7 degrees, slightly under normal. The average maximum temperature was 87.3 degrees and average minimum was 60.2 degrees.

Winds during July were chiefly from the southwest and west. Burns' summary shows.

August arrived with prospects of a season that will have more rainfall than last year, and prospects better for crops in general.

They're all there as the first of the planes, the long silver antennae of its headlights cutting the blackness and feeling for the runway, swoops down for a landing.

Col. John G. Fowler of Newnan, Ga., is in charge of the Superfort base on Iwo, with Lieut. Col. Max R. Fennell of Seattle, Wash., directing landing operations.

Fennell, whether in the tower or about the field, is in constant touch by radio. Today his job is not too hard. Weather has been fair, enemy opposition light, and most of the planes are coming in merely for refueling.

But sometimes it is a grueling work, calling for quick—and heartrending—decisions. When the B-29s had to land on the short, muddy Japanese runway in the early days, before the modern asphalted strip was ready, there was suspense, excitement and dread on Iwo. Sometimes the hovering island was "socked in" by fog and there were 30, 40 or 50 distressed planes circling the island, all clamoring to be "let in."

Those days, and there have been several, Fennell had to limit

MORE ARMY UNITS RETURN TO STATES

By The Associated Press.

Advance Units of the 13th Airborne Division were scheduled to sail today (Wednesday) from Le Havre for the United States. Main body of the division is in the Reims area.

Arriving in the United States today:

At Boston—Air Force repatriated prisoners.

Arriving in the United States tomorrow:

At New York—3136th and 3138th Quartermaster Service Companies; Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, 209th Field Artillery group; 311th, 318th and 347th Military Police Escort Guard Detachments; Headquarters 434th Transport Corps group; 71st, 72nd, 73rd and 74th Transport Corps Squadrons of the 434th Transport Corps Group; Headquarters Staff and 75th, 76th, 77th, and 78th Transport Corps Squadrons of the 435th Transport Corps Group.

Iwo's hospitality. One day all but seven planes, those in most serious trouble, had to be sent on to their home bases without landing. It was wild, nerve-racking business, fighting to save those lost men of the air who could not even see the runway for the fog. There were bail-outs, some over the island, some over the sea, and there were crashes. But 75 of the 77 men were rescued. One wounded crewman fell by lucky chance, in the hospital area. Others were fished from the ocean by persistently searching "ducks" of air-sea rescue off shore.

Eggs stored in water-glass at home are satisfactory for cooking or baking, but fresh eggs are more satisfactory for frying, poaching and scrambling.

INSPECTED MEAT STOCKS ARE INCREASED LAST WEEK

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Federally inspected meat production rose slightly last week with a total of 265,000,000 pounds, as compared with 263,000,000 pounds for the preceding week and 17,000,000 pounds in the corresponding week last year.

The war meat board said the slight gain reflected an increase in hog slaughter.

OHIO'S PEACH CROP IS COMING ON NOW

Growers' Reports Indicate Yield Near Normal

Ohio's peach crop, the only fruit of the year in normal production, will be ready for harvest in early August, growers reported at a recent conference in Cleveland.

A normal crop amounts to about 700,000 bushels in this state. This year, despite spring frosts, the yield is expected to be near normal, while weather conditions this summer have resulted in good quality, size and color, according to growers' reports.

Peaches have been selling in unusual demand this year, representatives of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company pointed out. They cited as reasons government requirements for commercially canned peaches, high ration points and economy in home canning. A bushel of peaches represents 1,750 to 2,000 ration points, they indicated.

Sugar supplies received attention of growers and distributors at the Cleveland conference. Provision is made by local ration boards to issue extra sugar for home canning. Kroger company representatives said sugar extenders, as honey and corn syrup, had helped in replacing much of the sugar in home canning. Because of their relatively high sugar content, peaches may be canned with no sugar or with a very thin syrup, they added. Corn syrup may replace one-third of the sugar, home economists advise.

Store Customers at Fault

If you talk to the clerks in many stores, you will find that a lot of supposedly good Americans give scant consideration to the truth in making purchases. As shortages of necessities grow more acute, many such stores have tried to carry out a voluntary rationing program so that all persons can get a share without annoyance and compulsion of ration stamps. Clerks who are trained to be courteous are pushed around by customers who insist upon getting scarce articles of food, wearing apparel, smokes, etc.

"Some of our best people are the worst liars," said one clerk. "For example, we have tried to voluntarily apportion eggs, ladies' hose, cigarettes, etc., to each customer. Many people who I know have received their allotment early in the week, come in the latter part of the week insisting that they haven't made such purchases. While we know they have received their quota, we get called down if we question their veracity."

Voluntary action by retailers, in which they must have the cooperation of the public, can avert much compulsory rationing which is so distasteful to the average citizen. But it must be a two-way proposition—the customer must cooperate with the store.

Matter-of-fact Folks

Like most of our war heroes, Technical Sergeant Charles E. Kelly of Pittsburgh, "Commando Kelly," is really a simple and forthright man. If he has been unduly expanded and exploited, that isn't his fault. Discharged now from the army with a long string of ribbons and medals, he says: "Commando, hell! From now on they can call me mister."

He furthermore expands his military philosophy to include his buddies, as follows: "Forget the wishy-washy 'Be Kind to Veterans Week' stuff. The time to treat a man decently is when he's in uniform. We're grown-up men, and we can take care of ourselves when we become civilians."

Presumably the great majority of war veterans feel likewise about their military experience and status. There is very little posing among them. Very few strut around and flaunt their uniforms and their honors. In general, all they ask for is to resume their places in civilian life and live up to the principles for which they fought.

A Cityless World

Lieut. General James Doolittle, who made the first flight over Tokyo, points out a war-time fact to which most people probably haven't given much thought. As a result of the punishment now being inflicted on Japanese cities by the American air fleet, he says Japan will be left "a nation without cities, a nomadic people."

This has happened to many cities on the European continent, and seems likely to happen to other nations in future wars to a still greater extent—if there are any more wars. The ancient punishment of So-

All the more reason, then, why the forces of intelligence and righteousness all over this world must emphasize the importance of avoiding future wars, and create the organized means of stopping them before they get started.

War Climax

The great moment which the American people have anticipated for five years has now arrived. Admiral William F. Halsey remarked the other day that his Third Fleet's sea-and-air offensive was the beginning of "the final plunge into the heart of the Japanese Empire." It was not only a tip-off to Americans, but a solemn warning to the enemy. The Allies, he said, would strike, against the Japanese defenders and their cities, until the latter were completely demoralized and their air and army fleets were shattered. When they hide, he added, they will be "hunted out of their holes." This tragic operation is already well advanced. Meantime there seems more than rumor to Japan's effort to gain peace if her leaders can "save face."

It is not only tragic for the enemy, but in a sense is tragic for the world. For the Japanese people in many ways possessed fine talents, and could have prospered and maintained the admiration of the world, if they had been satisfied to cooperate with it and live and work according to the generally accepted rules of civilized life. Instead, under these lawless leaders, they yielded to a criminal urge and threw away a great opportunity which may not come again for long years, if ever. It is tragic for them and, in a sense, tragic for the civilized world, which might have profited by their talents.

Washington at a Glance By JACK STINNETT

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
(Jack Stinnett Is On Vacation)
WASHINGTON — The man who has taken over the labor secretaryship in the Truman cabinet is going to apply the experience of a legislator and a judge to the first executive job he has ever held.

He came to the labor department from a federal judgeship. Before that he was a U. S. Senator.

Lewis B. Schwellenbach, of Washington state, has Washington officialdom talking about the practical way he has taken hold of his new assignment, one which he says took him away from "the best job in the world" on the bench.

And if anyone thinks he is out to expand his power for power's sake, listen to what the former jurist and pal of President Truman has to say:

"I don't want a lot of bureau just to increase my power. I'm not trying to grab power. What I'm seeking is to bring under the department only those agencies that fit here."

As for applying judicial procedure to his executive department, he says:

"Being a federal judge is the easiest job in the world. All you do is take the facts, check them with the law, and decide a case on its merits. I'm going to see if I can hold a cabinet position and make decisions on the same basis — listen to pressures brought and try to appraise them, and reach conclusions on what you think is right and not on the basis of what might be expedient."

Schwellenbach's "General Order No. 1" to his employees had a legislative as well as a judicial ring. He emphasized it was the function of every member of his department to execute the laws "as Congress has written them and as the courts have interpreted them."

"The fact that he may think the Congress should have written or the courts should have interpreted a law differently in no case justifies him in ignoring or attempting to circumvent the law. I will expect full cooperation in this policy."

The secretary told reporters the order was not aimed at any specific instances, but from past experience as Senator he knew it was "an old Washington custom" for executive departments to interpret congressional laws any way they saw fit.

Schwellenbach hit it off well in his first jousts with the newsmen after entering the cabinet. He has agreed to their suggestion that he see them regularly instead of at irregular intervals as was the practice of his predecessor, Miss Frances Perkins.

He even invited suggestions from the reporters covering the "labor run" on how his department labor boards and divisions should be merged with his department.

He has talked with more than 30 labor leaders and some employers' industrial relations representatives, too. He says he is not going to take any position on controversial questions until he finds out what his job is and how extensive it should be after reorganization.

He expects to have his merger recommendations ready for the President's study by Aug. 1.

Advising the Mothers-to-be

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.
THE child-bearing time is often an anxious one for the mother-to-be and yet, if she understands the facts about her condition, her fear can quickly be relieved. For this reason, Doctor Leonard H. Biskind of Cleveland has outlined answers to questions which frequently concern mothers at this time.

The process of child-bearing ordinarily begins with pains either in the lower back or across the abdomen. The pains may often be like those which occur at the regular periods in some women. The first pains come on at irregular intervals for several hours, the intervals ranging from ten to thirty minutes or more. Gradually the intervals get shorter while the pains last longer, and are more severe.

False Labor
Occasionally, during the last month of the child-bearing time the mother-to-be will have pains in her back and abdomen, which strongly suggest that the birth of the baby is about to occur. However, after several hours, these pains usually disappear. Such pains are called false labor pains.

The mother-to-be should be prepared to go to the hospital when the pains have been coming at five to eight minute intervals for a period of one to two hours, particularly with the first baby. On the average, with the first baby, the period of delivery usually lasts from twelve to twenty-four hours, but with subsequent babies the period is shortened to six to twelve hours and often less.

SYNOPSIS
Eleonore Lawrence, Air Raid Defense worker in Sweetsburg—a town humming with war industry and rumors of sabotage—has a secret assignment from the Counter Intelligence Corps which explained that one of its agents, planted in a group of aliens nearby, was having difficulty getting reports to C. I. C. headquarters. The coded messages were to be left in discarded cigarette packets near the Lawrence home. Eleonore agreed to retrieve and mail them to a certain address. The Lawrence household consists of "Grandma" Lawrence; Sukey, Eleonore's small sister; and Mamie, maid of all work. Eleonore's brothers, Arthur and Elton, are in the Navy and Coast Guard respectively. Eleonore was the recipient of several spy expose books, and secretly hoped the anonymous sender might be William Steuben, who had visited her months ago, but from whom she had heard nothing since. The adjoining Wolfe estate has been leased by B. Stead Jones of New York, and Eleonore noticed an attractive blonde on the grounds as she and Roof, her pet dog, returned from their daily stroll. At home she found Jones visiting Grandma. He explained that his wife is an invalid and that he is interested in "hunting Fifth Columnists." His offer to rent the Lawrence house is turned down. Jones warned Eleonore against walking along the mountain road "because of the rough crowds employed at the rubber factory nearby." A week later, Roof disappeared. Unknown to Eleonore, Bill Steuben is a C. I. C. agent. After posing as a Nazi sympathizer in New York, he was sent to the school of sabotage now being conducted at the Jones' mansion by the mysterious Carlotta. Bill recalls his first meeting with the Nazi agent Baalsh Jones, who disclosed that Carlotta, "a very demon of a woman," was seeking a more secluded locale for her "Tower of Learning." Bill suggested the Wolfe estate, where he is now "Number 7." Baalsh explained that when—and if—he qualified, Carlotta would give him personal instruction. Bill hears a muffled shot outside.

CHAPTER TEN
Bill took another squint at the roadway and to his delighted surprise saw a girl coming down the mountain. Although reduced to almost pin size, he knew her for Eleonore. His dark mood was erased. Memory leaped to those happy days spent with the Lawrences in September.

She passed from sight, but the vision remained along with new zest and courage. . . . When a key turned in the lock, Bill thought that it was Herr Friedrich for the afternoon lesson, but "Doc" came in, a black hood in his left hand. His other hand was bandaged.

"Number 7, you are requested to come to the living room for a special lecture."

"And that—that mask?"

"Everyone will wear them." Bill examined the hood. It was made of black muslin, slits for seeing, a hole to breathe through. "How did you hurt your hand?" "Dog bite."

"I haven't heard any dogs around here." "You won't. Not now. I shot him." Doc gave a seamy half smile; he was evidently suffering. "Your exercise tonight will be digging his grave."

Had it been a dog? he asked himself as he slipped the black hood over his head. Looks like an executioner's mask, he thought.

Steuben went downstairs with "Doc" who conducted him to a room near the front door where chairs were arranged before a flat-topped desk.

At first Bill was the only occupant, but soon the folding doors opened to admit another masked figure, and then another, until nine were seated facing the desk. It was a scene from a medieval play or some Klan mummery. They sat there like robots for about five minutes before the folding doors rumbled again.

This time Steuben was startled to see a seemingly fragile girl, her straight, pale-gold hair cut with bangs, her blue eyes wide and serious, walk to the desk and take a seat. She was a little older, a little taller than Eleonore, and her draped blue wool dress revealed an exquisite figure. It couldn't be Carlotta, this girl with the wistful quality of a Joshua Reynolds portrait? But it was the Nazi queen!

Then Carlotta began speaking, apologizing for the need of the masks. As soon as Bill heard her melodious voice with its trace of German, he stared at her long, trying to extract from those lineaments the middle of her personality. Himmeler's agent, yet no one could have looked less lethal. Rounded cheekbones, firm, yet delicately sculptured jaws, an unrouged mouth with a dent under the center of the lower lip, a straight nose, and eyes that came alive with earnestness as she made her points.

Perseverance, resolution, and resourcefulness are the three great virtues of espionage," Carlotta told them. "And I caution you to conceal your knowledge of foreign languages so that people will talk more freely before you. Collect every bit of information without showing any interest in it; make no conspicuous inquiries about anything you wish to find out."

Carlotta told them how to report their findings in terms that could be interpreted innocently. "Ten bombers are loaded to be shipped west. Write to your superior that you spent ten dollars on the train west of Chicago. They must never babble or show off, for a loose word could cause their destruction. They must avoid drink and drugs as they would the plague; either might cost them their safety or their lives."

So far it had been simple enough, the fundamental rules of spying. Then, with kindling face she swung into a new phase, losing the pedagogic touch, into a rapturous review of the value and triumphs of espionage. She told of spectacular victories in past centuries, accomplished by the work of a single spy. . . .

As Carlotta went on, a curious thing happened to Bill. Her impassioned voice did queer things. . . . He did not resist her any longer, but was drawn to her by an irresistible magnetism. He fought

VETERANS' GUIDE BY MAJOR THOMAS M. NIAL

WASHINGTON — This business of reemployment rights for veterans is taking on the jumbled appearance of a newly-secured beachhead—turmoil everywhere.

Selective Service, the agency responsible for placing veterans in their old jobs, claims that the ex-service man is entitled to his old, or an equivalent, job—regardless of who must be displaced to make room for taking on the veteran.

That, according to Selective Service, is the way the law should be interpreted. Certain labor organizations, on the other hand, take the stand that it's not fair for a veteran to get his old job back, if it involves the firing of a non-veteran—or possibly a World War I veteran—with greater seniority.

And recently the Attorney General complicated the issue further when he put out a circular to all U. S. Attorneys (the men responsible for enforcing the reemployment rights of veterans), the circular says that Selective Service's interpretation of Section 8 (that's the reemployment section) of the Selective Service Act is not "free from doubt."

In connection with this reemployment confusion, a new word—"superseniarity"—is being thrown around like a hot lump of coal. You've read about it and maybe have been just as confused as I was. The way I figure it is—a claim which asserts "superseniarity" is one which abolishes the old accepted seniority system in American industry, when the reemployment of a veteran is affected.

"Super" seniority means that "seniority" doesn't govern a particular case—and the "particular case" would have to be one where a veteran would get back his old job at the cost of causing a non-veteran with greater seniority to be displaced.

I hope I'm not clouding the issue too. I'm trying, in my own way, to explain this because it is very important to us veterans, and will become more so as the reemployment problem grows.

If Selective Service has its way, ex-service people would find a smooth path leading back to the old job. But Selective Service is finding the going a little rough. The veteran often finds he has to stumble over the second thoughts of some notable forces.

And I hope this mild clash of forces doesn't increase. Perhaps some government, labor, and industry officials will soon be able to embalm the "Seniority For Veterans" subject and let us view the remains.

Every Selective Service Board the prospective deficit.

SHORTAGE OF COAL TO SLOW INDUSTRY

End of War with Japan Might Change Situation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—(AP)— A government fuel expert testified today "I expect all industry, including steel mills, to be on a four-day week this winter" due to a prospective 37,000,000 ton coal deficit.

Only two other things could prevent such a development, Dr. C. J. Potter, deputy solid fuels administrator, told the senate war investigating committee:

1. The army could agree to furnish 30,000 coal miners to go to work by Oct. 1.
2. The war with Japan could come to a sudden end.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes first testified that next winter will be the coldest of the war for Americans unless enough miners are released to make up the prospective deficit.

Four Awards Given at Close of Dessert - Bridge

Perfect appointments, artistic decorations for the serving tables amid numerous bouquets and bases of flowers combined to make the four table dessert-bridge party given by Mrs. Charles Reinke at her home, Tuesday evening one of many delights for the appreciative guests who anticipate her piquant entertaining. The attractively furnished residence was an appropriate setting for the affair which was entertained with great finesse by the hospitable and personable hostess.

A bevy of well-dressed women assembled by the hostess for the evening, found their places at the dining table and other small ones. A handsome crystal watergarden, filled with pansies, centered the table which was laid with gleaming silver and sparkling crystal. Each smaller table was bedecked with a miniature watergarden, similar to that on the dining table. Informal chatting during the most pleasant hour was added enjoyment for the guests.

During the remainder of the time, four tables of bridge were at play. At the end of an evening of especially keen competition, Mrs. Reinke presented high score awards to Mrs. Ormond Dewey, Mrs. Henry Sparks, Mrs. Robert Heath and Mrs. Margaret Edge.

As the guests departed late in the evening, each expressed their indebtedness and sincere appreciation to the hostess for a most pleasurable time.

Thirty-five persons assembled on Monday evening for one of the year's most outstanding and enjoyable affairs.

The spacious, sweeping lawns of the beautifully laid out home was the scene of a sumptuous picnic supper during the earlier hours of the evening. The remainder of the time was devoted to informal visiting.

A highlight of the activities during the affair was when one large table, laid with identical shower gifts were arranged for two brides, who are choir members. The honored brides included Mrs. Paul Thompson and Mrs. Norman Armbrust. Each made gracious response to the guests.

HEARING IN TURMOIL OVER BUTTER SALES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—(AP)—Senator Ellender (D., La.) walked out of a Senate committee hearing today after Acting Chairman Wherry (R., Neb.) cut off a question he put to a witness.

The flare-up occurred as Wherry sought to learn from a war food official, Dr. D. A. Fitzgerald, if it were true that large quantities of stored butter had been sold to soap factories.

Later Wherry said he understood, but did not know positively, that 90,000 pounds of butter had been sold to Procter and Gamble, and 80,000 to Lever Bros.

Fitzgerald told the small business committee that he could not answer without investigating the circumstances.

CRAIG'S

—Spying— On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.

By TED MEER
(Pinch hitting for Hugh Fullerton)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The advice of baseball's new commissioner—"Happy" Chandler—for players to stay away from all forms of gambling seems to have fallen on deaf ears—many big leaguers still enjoy an off day by going to a race track and betting a few bucks on some nag.

Close to the Rail
Speaking of racing, reports from Garden State say radio broadcaster Ted Husing is making a clean-up on tips from jockeys—he had a $49.00 winner the other day as well as a $300 daily double—Steve Owen, coach of the pro football Giants, and Greasy Neale, coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, are a frequent twosome at New York tracks, but bitter rivals on the gridiron.

Along Fight Row
Lou Gross, trainer of Willie Joyce, worried over the Tippy Larkin fight Friday night—"Joyce will win," Lou figures, "but I think it will be close." Is Lt. Col. Eddie Egan, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, and the man responsible for the "no draw" ruling for New York fights, headed for bigger things?

Planning the Guff
Phil Weintraub, Giants' first baseman, changed jeers to cheers in less than five minutes yesterday—his error in the top of the ninth in the first game let the Boston Braves take a 3 to 2 lead—his single with the bases full in the last of the ninth won the game—Wallace "Wah-Wah" Jones, who scored 2,398 points during his five years of high school basketball at Harlan, Ky., has decided to enter the University of Kentucky this fall—The new coach of the AAF Training Command football team, Major Doug Fessenden, ex-Montana, lives in room 4-F in a Fort Worth hotel—Fights in Pennsylvania now are decided by a majority of the three officials—previously, if the two judges split, the referee's vote decided.

Guardsmen Swamped by API Outfit

If the Sheidler-Legion game Monday night was a track meet, Tuesday night's Twilight League meeting of the API and Company D teams defies description and takes all the honors for wild and woolly softball.

The API outfit piled up a 35 to 1 count against the Guardsmen as they romped around the base paths on Wilson Field with complete abandon.

The War Workerz scored in every inning, but had one big fat one in the fourth when they went on a 13-run spree. The last one was not too bad either. They scored 8 in the windup, apparently just for the exercise.

While there's no minimizing the effectiveness of the API boys' offense, they did get a lot of help from the troopers who had 15 misplays chalked up against them. That many errors combined with 20 hits was bound to produce a lot of runs.

A few more games like those thus far this week and the fans may logically be expected either to stay away or come for a comedy entertainment.

Titan Hanover Favorite for Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Titan Hanover, the undefeated three-year-old trotter owned by E. Roland Harriman and Capt. Elbridge Gerry, today is considered about the closest approach to a sure thing for the Aug. 8 Hambletonian.

The Crack Son of Calumet, Chuck, soundly whipped the best of his division in the $9,000 National Trot, prep race for the Harness Derby, at Bill Cane's Good Time Park yesterday. The purse boosted his earnings to about $32,000.

With Harry Pownell handling the reins, the bay colt romped through his first elimination heat in 2:05 1-2 beating W. N. Reynolds' Reyland by three lengths. The second division race was taken by Octave Blake's Axomite with Lt. Col. Dunbar Bostwick's Kimberly Hanover second. In the final mile, Titan Hanover whipped Bostwick's filly by two lengths in 2:05 3-4.

Races Halted At Xenia by Heavy Rain

McKinley Kirk managed to knock off third money in the first heat of the first division of the 2:24 trot with Virginia D and Frank Lanum took fourth place in the same race with Elmer Junk's Snappy Kate before the first day's harness race card of the Greene County Fair at Xenia was rained out Tuesday afternoon.

A sudden shower which lasted 20 minutes came just after the first heats of each of the afternoon's four races had been completed. The remaining heats will be raced along with the four regular races on Wednesday's card—provided the Weatherman does not interfere again. The track was so heavy after the shower that the judges, Starter Joe McGraw, who sent the fields away at the Fair here, and the board's speed committee halted the sport.

A number of the horses that were raced here last week are now at Xenia and most of them will be shipped to Wilmington next week for the Clinton County Fair. Among them will be some of the top flight horses that did not get to make their keenly anticipated appearance here on Saturday when rain halted the last day's racing.

Reds Hit Winning Stride When They Take on Champs

The Cincinnati Reds, who had to take on the champions before hitting a winning stride, seek their third victory over the St. Louis Cardinals tonight. Arnold Carter, the Reds' only southpaw pitcher, will oppose Red Barrett in the final of a four-game series.

The Redlegs lost the opener of a twilight-night doubleheader to the Cards last night 4-3, but came back to shut out the Red Birds 2-0 in the second game as Bucky Walters, showing his old-time form of last season, pitched five-hit ball. It was Walters' tenth victory against eight losses.

The Reds scored both of their nightcap runs in the second inning off Blix Donnelly. Eddie Miller lined out his third homer of the season, and then Walters drew a walk, stole second and moved on to third on an error. Dain Clay cashed him with a single.

Al Jurisich pitched his first full game of the season in the opener as he chalked up his initial victory. Johnny Hopp, Cardinal right fielder, led a 10-hit Red Bird attack with three singles in four times up. Howard Fox was the loser.

Nobody can convince Dave Ferriss that the New York Yankees are just a shadow of the old murderer's row and the rookie of the year has evidence to back up his case.

The spectacular Boston Red Sox freshman has lost only four games while winning 17 but three of his setbacks were at the hands of the New Yorkers.

The discharged air force veteran broke into the league with eight straight triumphs, including a 5-0 shutout of the Yanks, but Joe McCarthy's clan put an end to the search by knocking him off the pedestal, 3-2.

Ferriss at the time shrugged off the loss as "one of those things." Next time the husky right-hander came up against the Yanks he was slugged off the hill, the only time he has been kayoed in 20 starts, and soundly drubbed, 14-4.

The prize rookie has lost only once since. Yesterday, however, the New York team combed him for 10 hits, four by Tucker Stainback, and edged him out in 10 innings, 4-2.

Hal Newhouser pulled up even with Ferriss at the 17-win pole by turning back the champion St. Louis Browns in 12 heats, 5-4.

Cleveland moved into fifth place by notching its seventh triumph in the last eight starts, nosing out Chicago, 6-5, in a night game. Pete Center, who picked up his fourth successive decision without defeat, did a nice job as relief hurler.

New Executive Speaks at Rotary Meeting—Calls For Public Support

"The organization of your Chamber of Commerce here is both an invitation and a challenge to the people of Washington C. H. Your Chamber of Commerce can only offer leadership and incentive, the public must back it up. If this type of cooperation is forthcoming there is no reason why Washington C. H. should not progress amazingly in the coming years. You have here all the potential resources and the type of community to accomplish this."

Such was the opening statement of James Riffe, Jr., new Chamber of Commerce executive vice president, in addressing members and guests of the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon Tuesday at the Country Club.

The speaker, introduced by L. M. Hayes, program general chairman, made an excellent impression upon his hearers by the seriousness and sincerity of his talk.

The new Chamber of Commerce executive outlined briefly some of the preliminary plans of the organization and stated that a great effort was to be made to secure men of vision and action on various committees now being appointed from the membership. He asserted that a solid foundation for the organization was essential to its future and that men were being sought as committee members who thought enough of their home city to give some time and effort to the duties to be outlined.

Riffe spoke briefly of the plans for a building code and zoning regulations for the city as a protection to property, of the need of support for a landing field and airport, of health problems to be faced and the vital need of C of C support for public service of various kinds in the city. He closed by declaring that the C of C office was open to all citizens at all times for suggestions.

President Billie Wilson and Secretary Webber French of the club gave reports of the recent club assembly at Wilson's home and of the trip to Columbus Monday by club officers and committee chairmen to the 159th district assembly where the Washington C. H. club staged a model club assembly for the benefit of representatives of all other clubs in the district. It was stated that the Washington C. H. club won the compliments of Gov. Miller and of the entire district assembly by the well planned assembly program carried out.

Among the guests at Tuesday's club luncheon meeting were the following service men: Cpl. Guy Briggs, of an artillery outfit, who has just returned after ten months in Germany; Lieut. George E. Pickens, a B-24 bomber pilot, who has seen a long period of service in the European war theatre and is expecting to be discharged early in August; Flight Officer Norman Armbrust of the 8th USA Airforce, who re-

A portion of the letter follows: "Between 21 October 1944 and 15 June 1945, Private First Class Thomas E. Allison was attached to this unit as a light truck driver, during which time he aided materially by his courageous and untiring performance in the invasion and subsequent defeat of Hitler's 'Fortress Europe'."

"With all the experience, resourcefulness, and ingenuity required of him in this capacity he attained outstanding results in the construction of new and the rehabilitation of existing military and commercial long distance telephone cables throughout France, Belgium and Germany. Geared to full war tempo, Private Allison developed into one of the important men in this unit."

SEEKS TO SELL FAYETTE ESTATE HELD IN TRUST

Beneficiary Under Will of Elmer Hukill Asks for Reinvestment

Sale of 159.14 acres of land in Wayne Township in which her father, Elmer B. Hukill, formerly of this city, gave her a life estate to be administered by a trustee, is asked in a suit filed in the Fayette County Common Pleas Court by Etta Genevieve Cochran against Harold R. Hukill, Orville K. Hukill, Donald L. Hukill, Janet E. Hukill, Robert E. Hukill and Willis H. Liggett, trustee of the estate.

Willis H. Liggett represents the plaintiff in the action in which he is one of the defendants.

Plaintiff states that she was the beneficiary under the will of Elmer B. Hukill, who died May 15, 1920, in Columbus, and that under the terms of the will the testator devised in trust for the lifetime of the plaintiff, two tracts of 79 acres or more, in Wayne township.

Under terms of the will the plaintiff is entitled to the entire net income from the estate during her lifetime.

It is stated that Naomi Hukill, widow of Elmer B. Hukill, died August 25, 1941, and that Liggett was named trustee of the estate and resides in Franklin County.

At the death of the plaintiff, under terms of the will, the property goes to her brothers and sisters, providing plaintiff has no heirs.

Plaintiff states that the farm has small buildings, is rented for cash rent, and that the trustee residing in Columbus makes it inconvenient for him to look after the farm.

She also states that the net income has been insufficient to accomplish the purpose intended by her father, and asks sale of the property and that proceeds be reinvested for benefit of plaintiff.

An American investigator, who called the killings the most brutal he had encountered, said the American airmen were being led through Russels-Hein from one prison train to another when the two women incited a mob by shouting, "beat them to death." A seven block "march of death" followed, the investigator said, ending with the fliers dead on the streets of the little village, their bodies crushed with sticks and stones.

VIOLENT STORM HITS THE COUNTY DURING NIGHT

Rainfall Here Was .67 Inch In Short Time During Early Morning

A violent electrical storm swept across Fayette County from west to east about 1:30 Wednesday morning, and the lightning apparently struck dozens of times in the path of the storm.

Rainfall was unusually heavy for a short time, a total of .67 inches being recorded here, bringing to 1.79 inches the total precipitation here since Saturday morning.

The storm moved rapidly and apparently did not extend a considerable distance north and south of the path swept across the county.

Heavy wind accompanied the rain over part of the storm area. Temperature peak Tuesday was 83 and at 8 A. M. Wednesday the reading was 67.

So far as reported no serious damage was done by the lightning, while the rainfall was needed to help the growing crops.
A year ago the dry, intensely hot weather was in full swing at this time of the season, and pastures were parched and worthless.

The rains during the past few days have done much to renew pastures throughout the county. Showers were continuing here Wednesday.

Wind caused considerable damage in the Eber community, and also a narrow strip east and west of there, according to reports, and trees were blown down, limbs torn off, and wire communication interrupted at some points.
Corn was also blown down in the path of the windstorm.

THREE ARRESTS MADE

Police picked up three men in a bad state of intoxication over Tuesday night, and all were to face Judge R. H. Sites sometime Wednesday. One of the offenders has been listed many, many times for the same offense.

Certain paper products are component parts of sea and land mines, of radio equipment, shells and other war weapons.

RAINS HALT WHEAT THRESHING FOR DAYS

Still Fully Five Percent of Wheat Still in Shock

With still approximately 5 percent of the wheat crop in the shock, rains over the weekend halted threshing, and rains so far this week have prevented resumption of the work.

All wheat has been combined that is to be harvested in that way, reports indicate, but there are a number of fields of wheat to thresh within a few miles of Washington C. H., as well as scattered about the county.
